CONTACT CENTRE SUPPLIER AWARDS

Welcome

CCSA16

Welcome to the first Wales & South West Contact Centre Supplier Awards organised by the Welsh Contact Centre Forum and South West Contact Centre Forum.

As for we lead the contact centre industry across Wales and the South West of England, representing over 500 major employers and over 80,000 employees, who work within centres of excellence and best practice.

Our associate members and suppliers play an essential role in driving performance across the industry – from workforce management to the latest headsets, chairs to construction – and it's through their innovation and service that we know more about our customer and improving delivery than ever before.

But they are often the silent partner in our success. That's why we've established these Awards, to recognise the great work being done in helping our industry be the best it can be.

We are delighted to have in the room with us today some of the best and most forward-thinking, solution-driven companies, all of whom deserve to win.

We want all of our members to recognise that you are here today because you are at the top of your game and operate as a true partner to the business.

Thank you and enjoy the afternoon!

Cardiff & Vale College

>www.cavc.ac.uk

Cardiff and Vale College boasts 20,000 learners and top class industry facilities across the Capital Region, including the new £45m City Centre Campus located in the heart of Central Cardiff Enterprise Zone. CAVC's clients act as ambassadors - here's how a Welsh Contact Centre Forum member describes working with the college: "Cardiff and Vale College provides us with bespoke solutions for our business. For us, it is about going to someone who knows our business needs and understands the way we work, so we get the training, advice and delivery that we want. We have designated points of contact, with trusted advisors, and it is very much a two way relationship - relaxed, trusted and effective. CAVC make it easy for us to work together." Sarah Hopkins, Director of Human Resources, Wales and West Utilities.

Opinion-8

>www.opinion-8.com

How do you know your customers are happy with the service you provide? KPIs tell you how well your contact centre operates logistically but not whether your customers left their last interaction with you satisfied with their enquiry fully resolved. Opinion-8's omnichannel VoC surveys give you that valuable information. As a cloud-based offering, Opinion-8 requires no integration and operates globally giving any company a cohesive solution to collating feedback across their business. Opinion-8's automated nature allows staff to concentrate on your core business whilst feedback is being collated. Real-time reports & graphs and transcription of verbatim comments in multiple languages ensure that the data can be easily interpreted and acted upon. The team at Square Systems has decades of contact centre experience and works consultatively with clients to ensure that they get the very best from deploying Opinion-8.
